

National Service Scheme

Sri Aurobindo College (Eve.)

(University of Delhi)

Plantation Drive 'Ek Ped Maa Ke Naam' (11th July, 2024)

On 11th of July 2024, Team SAMARPAN, the NSS unit of Sri Aurobindo College (Eve.), hosted an event to promote "Ek Ped Maa Ke Naam," an initiative launched by our Hon'ble Prime Minister, Shri Narendra Modi, to promote tree plantation and environmental awareness on the occasion of World Environment Day. The sole objective of this event was to encourage ecological conservation by motivating people to plant trees and raise awareness about the importance of trees and plants in light of ecological strains caused by population rise and resource exploitation, along with climate change.

Due to the ongoing summer break, the team decided to organise the event at their houses; the event witnessed an enthusiastic response from our volunteers, planting trees in their localities and encouraging their families to participate. All of this moment was captured in photos by our volunteers. The active engagement of NSS volunteers greatly contributed to the success of the campaign, spreading awareness and enabling a spirit of participation in their communities. This initiative not only promotes a uniting approach to ecological conservation but also highlights the growing environmental awareness among today's youth.

This successful event owes gratitude to the NSS team and our programme officer, Mr Rajesh Kumar Nigah, and the principal, Prof. Arun Chaudhary, for their guidance and support in making the campaign a huge success and a great win towards the lack of environmental awareness.

